

Title: Satellite Today
Date: November 2007
Frequency: Updated weekly
Page views: tbc

Satellite TODAY

Powered By The Access Intelligence Satellite Group

Welcome to Satellite TODAY, the Internet's leading source for business news, market research and competitive analysis in the satellite communications industry. To learn more about a paid subscription as well as complimentary content on this site, please click subscribe.

SATELLITE TODAY :: DAILY NEWS FEED

NSSL Opens Middle East Office

November 7, 2007

[11-07-07 - Satellite Today] NSSL, an independent service provider for satellite communications solutions, is opening a new Middle East office, the company announced Nov. 6. The service provider is looking to take advantage of the growing opportunities in the Middle East market. This is the first time that NSSL will have a local presence in the Middle East. NSSL already has offices in north America, Europe and Asia. The company's office will be located in Dubai, and NSSL will be able to support its customers in the oil, corporate and financial sectors, many of which have their headquarters in the United Arab Emirates. The decision to expand NSSL's capability in the territory was made in response to growing regional demand for their services.

NSSL will have agents and engineers based at the new office who will focus on providing BGAN, the new Inmarsat IsatPhone and BroadIP VSAT services.